City of Ferguson Announces Official YouTube Channel

Ferguson, Mo) – The City of Ferguson announces the official YouTube channel for the city. The YouTube Channel will give viewers a chance to hear directly from city council members, as well as feature businesses around Ferguson, community events, and youth involvement.

The channel is already up and running. On it, you can find past interviews with Mayor James Knowles III, Councilman Wesley Bell, Councilwoman Laverne Mitchom, the late Councilman Brian Fletcher and City Manager De'Carlon Seewood. During the next few weeks, you will see interviews with Councilwoman Ella Jones, Linda Lipka, Heather Robinett and Councilman Keith Kallstrom.

“This is just one of the many communications vehicles we are utilizing to keep our citizens up-to-date,” said City Manager De'Carlon Seewood. “There are great things happening in Ferguson, and we are proud to share our progress with our residents,” added Seewood.

The City of Ferguson’s official YouTube Channel is titled “The City of Ferguson Public Affairs,” and can be found by searching the title in the YouTube search engine.
